Engage...

the Green Building Community!

Gain access to wide markets for your sustainable products and services at Greenprints 2012. This conference provides a dynamic forum for design and construction professionals to interact with experts, discover design alternatives and implement solutions that will guarantee an ecologically sustainable future.

Reach broad audiences. As an exhibitor for the 2012 Greenprints Conference, you can reach broad audiences – from up-and-coming professionals to industry veterans. Last year, participants from the architecture, construction, engineering, design, consulting, education, manufacturing and academic communities attended this exciting, two-day forum on sustainability.

Exhibiting is a powerful marketing forum. Year after year, our exhibitors return to establish additional connections with potential clients and constituents.

Exposure and opportunities. Product exposure, networking opportunities and an overwhelmingly positive overall experience keep our exhibitors coming back!

Booth space is limited

With only 10 tables we will sell out quickly.
